

I think broadband over power lines will cause enormous interference to the hf band and other radio frequencies causing hard to receive anyone on the amateur radio frequencies.